LEGACY GIVING

SPAY-NEUTER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

SNAP is a publicly-supported 501(c)(3) charity.

SNAPUS.ORG

1 Save your loved ones time, money, and stress.

Most estates go through probate to start the legal process for distributing assets upon your death. Without a will, this gets complicated because the court names an administrator. With a will you choose who will handle your estate, making it easier and smoother for your loved ones.

2 Determine who will manage your estate.

Choose an executor who is capable and trustworthy to carry out your wishes.

3 Provide a home or plan for your pets.

Name a beneficiary or caretaker for your pets and set aside funds to provide for their care.

4 Decide who gets your assets and property.

Name people or a charitable organization like SNAP as beneficiaries for specific assets or any residual value of your estate.

Create a Legacy

Leaving a gift to the Spay-Neuter Assistance Program (SNAP) in your will is a wonderful way to express your love for animals as part of your legacy. Planned giving through a will enables your goals and dreams to continue beyond your lifetime.

Without a will, after your death, your property will be distributed by the laws of your state—without regard for your personal wishes. Planned giving through a will ensures that your estate will benefit the people and causes you value most.

We realize that your financial and estate plans are private and personal and that a bequest is an important decision. When writing or revising your will, please consider including a gift for SNAP.
